

Gray Plant Mooty Recognized as Top Workplace by Star Tribune

June 20, 2018

MINNEAPOLIS (June 20, 2018)—Gray Plant Mooty has been named one of the Top Workplaces in Minnesota by the Star Tribune. A complete list of those selected is available on StarTribune online and will also be published in the Star Tribune Top Workplaces special section on Sunday, June 24.

Produced by the same team that compiles the 27-year-old Star Tribune 100 report of the best-performing public companies in Minnesota, Top Workplaces recognizes the most progressive companies in Minnesota based on employee opinions measuring engagement, organizational health, and satisfaction. The analysis included responses from over 71,000 employees at Minnesota public, private, and nonprofit organizations.

The results of the Star Tribune Top Workplaces are based on survey information collected by an independent company specializing in employee engagement and retention.

“We’re honored that Gray Plant Mooty is included as a Top Workplace,” said Gray Plant Mooty Co-Managing Officer Sarah Duniway. “It’s especially validating because the results stem from the opinions of our very own employees—the people who make the firm what it is today. It truly is the people who make up the heart of each workplace.”

Star Tribune Publisher Michael J. Klingensmith said, “The companies in the Star Tribune Top Workplaces deserve high praise for creating the very best work environments in the state of Minnesota. My congratulations to each of these exceptional companies.”

To qualify for the Star Tribune Top Workplaces, a company must have more than 50 employees in Minnesota. Over 2,400 companies were invited to participate. Rankings were composite scores calculated purely on the basis of employee responses.
